3. Strategies and approaches to learning

3.1 Learning and teaching activities

Content and teaching approach are based on providing advanced education and training required for an Honours-level psychology course.

Formal learning for PSYC4093 is via a two hour lecture per week, a one hour tutorial per week, and a two hour elective seminar per week.

Lectures in the core component are recorded, however lecture attendance is a requirement of this course. Students are advised NOT to use lecture recordings as a substitute for lecture attendance. Recordings allow you to review the lecture in order to clarify your understanding of course material.

The weekly tutorials are mandatory and will allow for facilitated discussion regarding: (i) scenarios describing common ethical dilemmas; and (ii) the historical context of psychology.

Elective seminar streams are also mandatory as they are based on in-depth discussions and presentations of advanced theoretical and research topics. Seminars in the elective component are not recorded.

3.2 Expectations of students

It is expected that students are aware of the UNSW Assessment policy and understand how to apply for special consideration if they are unable to complete an assignment/exam due to illness and/or misadventure.

It is expected that students have read through the School of Psychology Student Guide, and the Honours-related documentation emailed to them after Orientation (e.g., 2019 School of Psychology Honours Information Guide).

All news updates and anno regularly to keep up to date.

The final exam for this course will take place on campus during the UNSW examinations period. Students should not arrange travel during the UNSW exam period until the date of the final exam has been released. Students who arrange travel prior to the release of the final exam date will not be granted consideration in the event they are scheduled to be out of country when the final exam is to occur.

Students registered with Disability Support Services must contact the course co-ordinator immediately if they intend to request any special arrangements for later in the course, or if any special arrangements need to be made regarding access to the course material. Letters of support must be emailed to the course coordinator as soon as they are made available.

4. Course schedule and structure

Each week this course typically consists of 2 hours of lecture material, 1 hour of face to face tutorials, and 2 hours of elective seminars. Students are expected to take an additional 15 hours of self-determined study to complete assessments, readings, and exam preparation.
